

Tracey Silagy has been part of the Siloam Mission family for more than 20 years – first as a monthly donor, then as a Board Member since 2018, and now as our Board Chair.

Born and raised in Winnipeg's North End, Tracey earned a Bachelor's degree in Honours Math and Actuarial Science from the University of Manitoba. A lifelong learner, she has also explored courses in literature and writing, Indigenous Studies, and governance. Her professional experience includes project management, primary healthcare, and critical writing.

Tracey believes strongly in giving back. Alongside her work with Siloam, she volunteers on several charitable boards and enjoys tutoring math for adult learners. She and her husband are part of Nassau Street Church, and they love spending time with their children and expanding family - just recently becoming grandparents for the first time.

Celia Valel is a lawyer experienced in taxation law, corporate and commercial law, trusts and estate planning and charities and non-for-profits law. Throughout her career, she has placed a priority on volunteering with charitable organizations engaged in serving the community. Celia joined Siloam Mission's Board of Directors in 2022.

She is a thankful mother of three children. She and her family attend Grant Memorial Church in Winnipeg.

Heather Olfert is a CPA and has spent her career as an auditor at Deloitte LLP working with private organizations and not-for-profits. She attends Fort Garry MB church where she volunteers as the assistant treasurer and as a pianist. In her free time you can often find Heather with a book in her hands or out for a run.

She joined the board in 2022 and currently serves on the Finance and Audit Committee and Capital Campaign Committee.

Rose Brower-Young has been Ordained with the Church of the Nazarene since 1994. Rose is presently the District Superintendent, Canada West District Church of the Nazarene.

She is an Ex-Officio board member for all 53 boards and committees of the district and serves as chair for the Canada West District Board of Ministry, District Advisory Board. She also serves as board secretary for the National Board of the Church of the Nazarene.

In addition, Rose has co-pastored with her husband, Kelly Brower throughout southern Alberta. She also was the Lead Pastor at the Calgary East Church of the Nazarene for 8 years until 2018.

Marc Normandeau, CPA, CMA has over 25 years of experience leading finance teams. He has extensive experience working with many boards and committees in the community. He has served in various roles, such as treasurer, vice-president, president and has actively participated on several board sub-committees. Prior to joining Siloam Mission, he was board treasurer of a local not-for-profit organization, Festival du Voyageur.

Marc's areas of expertise include: strategic thinking, planning, creative problem-solving, finance, accounting, budgets, and risk management.

He has contributed to the Truth and Reconciliation Committees at Festival du Voyageur and at his current employer, Credit Union Central of Manitoba. At Siloam Mission, Marc is a member of the Finance & Audit Committee and chairs the Indigenous Relations Committee.

Abraham Simon has been a dedicated volunteer at Siloam Mission for many years and now serves as a Board Member. He has also contributed his time at Gimli Bible Camp for over 15 years. Abraham is passionate about supporting people in need and creating opportunities for hope and transformation.

His experience as a board member with other charitable organizations, along with his professional background in accounting and work with Indigenous communities in Canada, enables him to contribute meaningfully to Siloam Mission's vision, mission, and programs.

As a Board Member, Abraham hopes to see Siloam's impact continue to grow and touch the lives of everyone who comes through its doors.
